

News from the Newport Beach Animal Shelter

The Newport Beach Animal Shelter is very near the Grand Opening of their new building. Friends Of Newport Beach Animal Shelter (FONBAS) hopes to hand over the deed to the City in early May, at which point the Newport Beach Police Department will become the operators of the new facility. There will be an announcement soon about the public open house, so watch for that.

This has been a years' long project and is another outstanding example of a public private/partnership that will result in a wonderful amenity for our great city.

SPON members have been busy helping to reduce the current inventory of animals in advance of the move.

Meet Greta Jane, Jeff and Sally Herdman's new pup.

And here are Oreo and Sugar, new members of the Scarbrough/Klobe (Nancy and Charles) household. Don't worry! They've been spayed and neutered so there won't be dozens more of these beautiful bunnies...

And here is Riley, Joy Brenner's new cuddly companion.

Maybe there is something in the water, or it's just that the empty nesters are realizing the joy of having a fun and loving pet(s)! There are many more beautiful cats, dogs, rabbits, guinea pigs, hamsters -- and even the occasional bird! -- available for adoption to forever homes. We can't imagine our lives without our new family members. Think about it...!

If there are any others who have adopted pets from the Newport Beach Animal Shelter, we would love to hear from you at info@spon-newportbeach.org.
